V Guidelines for doctoral dissertation, Summary of doctoral dissertation, and related papers

(1) Doctoral dissertation

- ① The dissertation should be prepared on A4 size and submitted in pdf format.
- ② If the dissertation is written in Japanese, the Japanese title on the front cover should be followed by an English title in parentheses. If the dissertation is written in English, the English title on the front cover should be followed by a Japanese title in parentheses.
- ③ The cover must also have the name of the author and the year of the final submission of the dissertation.
- ④ English and Japanese summaries should be provided on the last page of the dissertation.
- ⑤ The list of papers published related to the dissertation should be appended. Clearly indicate the section of the dissertation (which chapter) that relates to the published articles.
- ⑥ Photographs should be reproduced in color in all copies of the bound dissertation.
- ⑦ If the UGSAS approves the request not to publish the full text on the Internet within a year after the date of conferment of a doctoral degree, after passing the dissertation defense, one bound-cover dissertation must be submitted at least one week before the doctorate conferment ceremony and they should meet the following requirements.

Color and kind of cover paper:	Not specified
Font color:	Black
Size:	30cm(long)×21cm(wide) (standard A4 size paper)

※ Please ensure that the front cover of your dissertation should be in the format shown above.

(2) Summary of dissertation

- ① The summary should be printed on the form provided by the UGSAS.
- ② Figures or chemical symbols should be clearly printed or copied.

(3) Papers related to dissertation

- ① Related papers are publications in academic journals that are related to the theme of the dissertation and they should be accepted after the applicants' entrance of UGSAS. In principle, the candidate should be the first author of these publications.

The related papers should already have been published or should have been accepted for publication. For articles not yet published, official letters confirming that the articles will be published, or a publisher's contract should be attached.

If the applicant is unable to submit a letter of acceptance for publication of the academic paper at the time of application for the doctoral degree, the applicant must submit a certificate of submission showing that the paper has been or will be published, by 17:00 on the two days before the date of the dissertation defense (excluding holidays).

- ② For related papers published with co-authors, the applicant must have had a major role in the research, and the publications must not have previously been submitted to any university for the purposes of obtaining an academic degree by any of the co-authors.

VI Dissertation Defense

Only doctoral dissertation that satisfy all of the evaluation items of 'Doctoral Dissertation Defense Criteria for the United Graduate School of Agricultural Sciences, Tottori University' can be accepted as dissertations.

In principle, the defense should be an open oral examination related to the content of the dissertation, held at the participating university to which major supervisor is affiliated.

Candidates will be informed of the date and time of the defense on the website of the UGSAS.

(1) Course Doctoral

An oral or written examination related to the dissertation should be carried out to ascertain that the candidate has a wide knowledge.

(2) Dissertation Doctorate

An oral or written examination should be carried out to ascertain that the candidate has a wide knowledge of the specialized field, equal to or exceeding the level of students who obtain the doctoral degree after completing the doctoral course. Content of this examination should cover subjects related to the content of the dissertation. In this case, candidates should also prove proficiency in one foreign language (by describing method).

VII Submission of dissertation after dissertation and final examinations

If the doctoral dissertation is revised after the dissertation defense, the full text of the doctoral dissertation (in PDF format) should be submitted. If the UGSAS approves the request not to publish the full text on the Internet within a year after the date of conferment of a doctoral degree, the bound-covered PhD dissertation should be submitted to the UGSAS, at least one week before the doctoral degree conferment ceremony.

In addition, if the summary of the doctoral dissertation is published within three months after the date of conferment of a doctoral degree and part thereof is omitted for certain reasons, the summary of the doctoral dissertation (Form No. 13: in MS Word format) should also be submitted.

In addition, if the abstract of the doctoral dissertation (Form No. 14: in PDF format) is published under unavoidable circumstances, the abstract of the doctoral dissertation (Form No. 14: in PDF format) should also be submitted.
